

C. of C. Stand On 23 Ballot Propositions

Recommendations of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on state propositions on the November ballot were announced yesterday by directors of the organization.

The action followed studies by the legislative, revenue and taxation committees and the board's executive committee.

The recommendations are:
YES on Proposition 1, authorizing $150,000,000 veterans farm and home bond issue.

NO on 2, increasing state's contribution for operation of the schools.

NO on 4, prohibiting taking family income into consideration in pension payments to the blind.

YES on 5, banning public employment and tax exemptions to subversives.

LOYALTY OATH

YES on 6, requiring loyalty oath for public officials and employees.

NO on 7, requiring party affiliation of candidates on primary and special election ballots.

YES on 8, extending tax exemption on church buildings while under construction.

YES on 9, extending tax exemption on non-profit college buildings while under construction.

NO on 10, which would bar contribution of state funds to private organizations interested in influencing legislation.

NO on 11, broadening aged aid revising pension administration at an estimated increased cost of $170,000,000 a year.

YES on 12, permitting state officers to serve in military reserve forces.

NO on 13, prohibiting cross-filing.

YES on 14, repealing inoperative constitutional restrictions on Chinese.

YES on 15, taxation of insurance companies and banks.

YES on 16, permitting setting up of borough in any part of city.

NO on 17, amendment to chiropractic act.

NO on 18, permitting earmarking certain increases in taxes for urban redevelopment.

NO on 19, requiring three to nine members of county grand jury be held over for second year.

NO on 20, permitting allocation of state funds for private hospital construction.

YES on 21, requiring election of successor the same year superior judge dies, when death comes in last year of term.

NO on 22, permitting filing by mail of annual property statements to county assessor without necessity of taking oath.

NO on 23, permits taxing and assessing on large land holdings in one piece, instead of as units.

YES on 24, authorizing $185,000,000 bond issues for school construction.