

Col. H. H. Markham.

The voters of the Sixth District will fail in their devotion to protection if they fail to elect Col. H. H. Markham to Congress. He is a solid business man and will prove to be a faithful, sturdy and intelligent protectionist. He has done good service for the party during the campaign. His own hands have been the hands of the toiler. He is a protectionist because he knows what labor is and what it requires. He is our neighbor and friend. He has led a blameless life. He is modest and unassuming, a good citizen, an honorable man, and he ought to be elected, and we believe he will be, unless the business men and miners of the district prove recreant to themselves. The election of Blaine is not sufficient. We must have a Congress in sympathy with his ideas of protection.
